UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

Alan D. Halperin, Esq., as the trustee (the “Trustee”) of the Kodak GUC Trust (the

<sup>1</sup> The Reorganized Debtors in these chapter 11 cases, along with the last four digits of each Debtor’s federal tax identification number, are: Eastman Kodak Company (7150); Creo Manufacturing America LLC (4412); Eastman Kodak International Capital Company, Inc. debtors (the “Debtors”), respectfully requests the entry of an order, substantially in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit 1 (the “Proposed Order”), extending the time to effectuate service of process to June 30, 2014 in certain adversary proceedings listed on Exhibit A to the Proposed Order pursuant to section 105(a) of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”), Rule 4(m) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (the “Federal Rules”), made applicable to this proceeding by Rule 7004(a) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”), and Bankruptcy Rule 9006(b)(1), and respectfully represents:

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction to consider this motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1334. This matter is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(A), (F) and (O). Venue in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409(a) because this is the district where the above-mentioned Debtors' chapter 11 cases were pending.

BACKGROUND

2. On January 19, 2012 (the “Petition Date”), each of the Debtors filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in this Court, thereby commencing these chapter 11 cases (the “Chapter 11 Cases”).

3. On June 18, 2013, the Debtors filed their First Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization of Eastman Kodak Company and Its Debtor Affiliates [Dkt. No. 4073] (as amended, modified, or supplemented, including plan supplements and all other exhibits and schedules, the “Plan”).

4. On August 23, 2013, the Court entered an order confirming the Plan [Dkt. No. 4966] (the “Confirmation Order”). The Plan became effective on September 3, 2013 (the “Effective Date”).

5. On the Effective Date, the Trust was established for the sole purpose of liquidating the Trust's assets. Pursuant to Sections 3.03 and 3.07 of the Kodak GUC Trust Agreement (the "Trust Agreement"), after the Effective Date, the Trustee has the sole authority to maintain, prosecute, settle, dismiss, abandon, or otherwise dispose of avoidance actions against the parties listed on Exhibit L to the Plan (the "Avoidance Actions"). The Trustee is vested with the right to, among other things, compromise, adjust, arbitrate, sue on or defend, abandon, or otherwise resolve or settle claims in favor of, or against, the Trust (including the Kodak GUC Trust Avoidance Actions). Furthermore, the Trustee may enter into and consummate settlements and compromises of the Kodak GUC Trust Avoidance Actions without notice to, or approval by, the Court.

6. Since the Effective Date, the Trustee has been working diligently to determine whether any payments made by the Debtors to third parties prior to the commencement of the Chapter 11 Cases constitute preferential or fraudulent transfers that may be avoided and recovered by the Trustee pursuant to sections 547, 548, 549 and/or 550 of the Bankruptcy Code.

THE ADVERSARY PROCEEDINGS

7. In January of 2014, the Trustee, through his counsel, timely filed approximately 750 complaints commencing adversary proceedings (the “Adversary Proceedings”) in this Court against transferees (the “Defendants”) of preferential or fraudulent transfers pursuant to sections 547, 548, 549 and 550 of the Bankruptcy Code.

8. After commencing the Adversary Proceedings and in the course of serving the complaints, the Trustee determined that there were approximately 36 Defendants whose addresses listed in the Debtors' books and records were either no longer current or were incorrect. The Trustee has attempted to locate valid addresses for these Defendants by, among other things, reviewing information supplied by the Debtors regarding the transfers to these Defendants and performing thorough searches of public records. Notwithstanding the Trustee's diligent efforts, the Trustee has been unable to locate a current, valid address for service of process and therefore has encountered significant difficulty serving all Defendants within the 120-day time constraint set forth in Federal Rule 4(m) and Bankruptcy Rule 7004(a). The Trustee and his counsel, with the assistance of the Debtors, continue their attempts to locate the remaining Defendants.

9. Additionally, there are approximately 43 Defendants where the Trustee has obtained what may be a valid address, but has not yet received sufficient information from the Debtors to determine whether pursuit of the matter is worth the time and expense of serving the summons and complaint upon the Defendant. This is particularly so with respect to various foreign Defendants,<sup>2</sup> service upon whom would require the Trustee to expend significant time and expense given the requirements imposed by various countries to translate the complaint and/or enlist local authorities to effectuate service of process. The Debtors continue to supply information to the Trustee and his counsel, who have been <sup>2</sup> Federal Rule 4(m) specifically excludes service of process on foreign entities from the 120-day limitation of time to serve a summons and complaint. See Picard v. Cohmad Sec. Corp. ETC (In re Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec., LLC), 418 B.R. 75, 83 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2009) ("While a plaintiff must complete service upon a domestic defendant within 120 days of filing the complaint pursuant to Rule 4(m), the same statute expressly states that this time limitation 'does not apply to service in a foreign country under Rule 4(f).' This exclusion 'does not mean that the plaintiff enjoys an unlimited amount of time to effectuate service;' however, a plaintiff is entitled to a 'reasonable time' to exercise due diligence to serve the foreign defendant."). However, out of an abundance of caution, the Trustee requests an extension of time with respect to the foreign Defendants listed on Exhibit A to the Proposed Order.

[W]hen an act is required or allowed to be done at or within a specified period . . . by order of court, the court for cause shown may at any time in its discretion . . . with or without motion or notice order the period enlarged if the request therefor is made before the expiration of the period originally prescribed or as extended by a previous order . . .

FED. R. BANKR. P. 9006(b)(1).

12. It is well-established that the Court has discretion to extend the time to serve a summons and complaint. See Zapata v. City of New York, 502 F.3d 192, 193 (2d Cir. 2007) (explaining that the Second Circuit joins several other circuits in determining that the court may use its discretion to extend the time to serve a complaint even in the absence of good cause). In deciding whether to extend the time period in its discretionary power, courts generally consider the following factors:

(1) whether the applicable statute of limitations would bar the refiled action; (2) whether the defendant had actual notice of the claims asserted in the complaint; (3) whether the defendant had attempted to conceal the defect in service; and (4) whether the defendant would be prejudiced by the granting of plaintiffs' request for relief from the provision.

See Feingold v. Hankin, 269 F. Supp. 2d 268, 276 (S.D.N.Y. 2003).

13. The first factor weighs heavily in favor of the Trustee. Since the statute of limitations has expired for the Trustee to commence avoidance actions, dismissal of an Adversary Proceeding for failure to timely serve under Federal Rule 4(m) is extremely prejudicial to the Trust and its creditors. If an Adversary Proceeding is dismissed, it would, in effect, be with prejudice, and the Trustee will be unable to proceed against such entities. See Zapata, 502 F.3d at 197 (“Where . . . the dismissal without prejudice in combination with the statute of limitations would result in a dismissal with prejudice, we will not find an abuse of discretion . . . so long as there are sufficient indications on the record that the district court weighed the impact that a dismissal or extension would have on the parties.”).

In such cases, courts routinely extend the time to serve a summons and complaint. See, e.g., Cobalt Multifamily Investors I, LLC v. Arden, No. 06 Civ. 6172 (KMW) (MHD), 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 153624 at *7 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 24, 2013) (“Courts have consistently considered the fact that the statute of limitations has run on a plaintiff’s claim as a factor favoring the plaintiff in a Rule 4(m) analysis.” (internal quotations and citations omitted)); see also Advisory Committee Note to Federal Rule 4(m) (“Relief may be justified, for example, if the applicable statute of limitations would bar the refiled action . . . .”). Additionally, many of the recipients of the alleged avoidable transfers will further benefit from having received avoidable transfers at the expense of the Trust and its legitimate creditors.

14. The second and third factors do not apply in this case, as the Trustee (with few exceptions where service has been rejected) has been unable to serve the Defendants for whom the Trustee seeks an extension of time to serve. Given the short extension of time the Trustee seeks (approximately 44-48 days depending upon the precise date on which the complaint was filed),<sup>4</sup> the fourth factor favors the Trustee, particularly in light of the ramifications described above.

15. Finally, as a practical matter and despite the Trustee’s diligent efforts to date, the Trustee simply does not have the necessary information concerning the Defendants and the merits of the Adversary Proceedings to effect service of process with respect to many of the Defendants listed on Exhibit A to the Proposed Order.<sup>5</sup> Under these circumstances, the

<sup>4</sup> The Trustee commenced filing of the initial Adversary Proceeding complaints on January 13, 2014 and continued to do so through January 17, 2014. Accordingly, the current deadline to serve the summons and complaint in any Adversary Proceeding ranges from May 13, 2014 to May 17, 2014. Thus, the maximum extension the Trustee seeks is 48 days to serve the summons and complaint.

<sup>5</sup> The Trustee submits that the Court may grant the short extension of time to serve the summons and complaints in the Adversary Proceedings listed on Exhibit A to the Proposed Order even in the absence of good cause, see Zapata, 502 F.3d at 193, and that such relief is appropriate here. However, even if the Trustee were required to show “good cause” for the extension (a judgment that is left to the sound discretion of the Trustee respectfully requests that this Court enter an order extending the time for service of process with respect to the Adversary Proceedings listed on Exhibit A to the Proposed Order.

NOTICE

16. Notice of this Motion has been provided to the (i) United States Trustee for the Southern District of New York; and (ii) all entities having filed a Notice of Appearance in the main case, and (iii) all Defendants listed on Exhibit A at their last known address. The Trustee submits that no other notice need be given.

CONCLUSION

The Trustee respectfully requests that this Court enter an Order extending the time to effectuate service of process to June 30, 2014 in the Adversary Proceedings listed on Exhibit A to the Proposed Order, and for such other and further relief as is just and proper.

Court), the Trustee meets that requirement because the need for an extension does not arise from the Trustee's delinquency. Rather, the delay is the result of the sheer volume of information requested from the Debtors and the time it has taken for such information to be supplied and analyzed by the Trustee and his counsel. Accordingly, the Trustee can and will establish "good cause" for the relief requested, if necessary. See DeLuca v. AccessIT Group, 695 F.
